

GoodStoryADay: GoodStory E-Course for Young Writers

GoodStory E-Course 201 Creative Writing for Young Writers:

Code: E-C 1201

GoodStory E-Course 201 Creative Writing for Young Writers:

This course takes the young writer (ages 5 to 20) from writing fundamentals to proofing, editing and perfecting their works in a fun, relaxed and entertaining way. This is an Online tele-conferencing course with web-based and tele-conference Help Sessions available for one year. The course can be completed in 10 weeks for most youths. Follow-up writing is on-going. Duration of each class varies from 15 minutes to 1 hour. Some younger children will need help from an adult. This course is not only fun, but turns kids onto writing well and sharing their works with others. Instructor: Joycebelle and other authors. Produced by GoodStoryADay.com, Inc. PDF E-Course with web & tele-conferencing. Available Beginning September, 2008.

GoodStory E-Course 202 Oral Reading for Young Writers:
Code: E-C 1202

GoodStory E-Course 202 Oral Reading for Young Writers: This course helps the young writer (ages 5 to 20) read their written works so others will want to listen. It offers training in dramatic reading for live audiences, radio, CD recording, and voice-overs. It gives the fundamentals of culturing ones voice for effective pronunciation, enunciation, projection, control, timing, phrasing, memorization and other techniques for effective reading. This is an Online tele-conferencing course with web-based and tele-conference Help Sessions available for one year. The course can be completed in 10 weeks for most youths. Follow-up oral reading practice is on-going. Duration of each class varies from 15 minutes to 1 hour. Some younger children will need help from an adult. This course is not only fun, but turns kids onto reading their works and sharing them with others. Instructor: Joycebelle and other skilled readers. Produced by GoodStoryADay.com, Inc.
PDF E-Course with web & tele-conferencing. Available Beginning October, 2008.

GoodStory E-Course 203 Attention-getting Packaging for Young Writers:
Code: E-C 1203

GoodStory E-Course 203 Attention-getting Packaging for Young Writers: This course helps the young writer (ages 5 to 20) prepare their writings for presentation. It offers training in print layout, selecting and placing illustrations, creating a cover that sells, creating packaging of all information products (CD's DVD's, manuals, booklets, web site and related products to look like a product line to gain recognition in the marketplace. Even young writers can create a brand that sells. This course shows the young writers how they (just like Disney) can do this. This is an Online tele-conferencing course with web-based and tele-conference Help Sessions available for one year. The course can be completed in 10 weeks for most youths. Creating the product packaging is on-going. Duration of each class varies from 15 minutes to 1 hour. Some younger children will need adult supervision. This course is not only fun, but turns kids onto creating products that others will want.

Instructor: Joycebelle and other experienced graphic artists and advertising pros. Produced by GoodStoryADay.com, Inc.
PDF E-Course with web & tele-conferencing. Available Beginning November, 2008.

GoodStory E-Course 204 Profitable Marketing for Young Writers:

Code: E-C 1204

GoodStory E-Course 204 Profitable Marketing for Young

Writers: This course helps the young writer (ages 5 to 20) create a marketing plan to sell their information products successfully. It offers training in how to find your target market, how to identify what their target buyers want to buy, where they buy, when they buy, and how much they want to pay. It helps them understand marketing trends and how to place their product on the market at the right time. It presents the secrets of the big marketers in an easy to understand formula. It shows how to write ads that sell, where and how to place ads, how to get free publicity and how youth just like you get on top TV talk shows and in newspapers and magazines to broadcast their products. This is an Online tele-conferencing course with web-based and tele-conference Help Sessions available for one year. The course can be completed in 10 weeks for most youths. Creating the product packaging is on-going. Duration of each class varies from 15 minutes to 1 hour. Some younger children will need adult supervision. This course is not only fun, but turns kids onto creating products that others will want. Instructor: Joycebelle and other top marketers. Produced by GoodStoryADay.com, Inc. PDF E-Course with web & tele-conferencing. Available Beginning December, 2008.

GoodStory E-Course 205 Successful Publishing for Young Writers:
Code: E-C 1205

GoodStory E-Course 205 Successful Publishing for Young Writers: This course helps the young writer (ages 5 to 20) produce a book, CD's, DVD's, Web sites and other information products suitable for publishing. It offers training in how to present a manuscript or other product sample to publishers, how to identify appropriate publishers, how to approach them, how to pitch to them, how to read and understand the contract and negotiate favorable terms. This course also teaches how to work with a publisher to produce the best product possible and how to work with the publisher to market your information products successfully. It will help the young writer learn about book tours, attending national and local book fairs and trade shows and working with the media. This course will also show the young writer alternative ways to publish information products including self-publishing, foreign printing, long run and short run printing, print on demand, and E-books and other E-products. This is a complete how to course in publishing that can turn young writers into successfully published authors for family and friends marketing and/or for local, national or international distribution. There is not a limit to the creative power of a young writer. This is an Online tele-conferencing course with web-based and tele-conference Help Sessions available for one year. The course can be completed in 10 weeks for most youths. Creating the product packaging is on-going. Duration of each class varies from 15 minutes to 1 hour. Some younger children will need adult supervision. This course is not only fun, but turns kids onto publishing their creative works and sharing them with others. Instructor: Joycebelle and other top publishers. Produced by GoodStoryADay.com, Inc. PDF E-Course with web & tele-conferencing. Available Beginning February, 2007.

Order Your GoodStory E-Course
Click on Store, E-Courses
Now!